SUBJECT: The 2006 SDSU Spring Music Festival

The San Diego State University (SDSU) Electro-Acoustic and Media Composition program will be holding its 10th semiannual Electro-Acoustic Music Festival on May 9th, 2006 at Smith Concert Hall on the SDSU campus. The concerts will begin at 7 pm and include a live web cast via KCR radio, the SDSU radio station. The pre-party kicks off at 5:30 pm at Louie's Campus Pub!

Hosted by Dr. Joseph Waters and managed entirely by students, the EA Music Festival is an energized celebration of sonic craftsmanship. Trained in the art of composition and recording, students are charged with the semester-long task of creating unique pieces of music that redefine traditional boundaries. From Pop, Rock, and Hip-Hop to deep Avant-Garde, no genre or style is off limits! All pieces include visual counterparts and may make use of live instrumentation, electronic or acoustic. This event includes some of San Diego's most promising new bands, including: Lunette, The Material, AT DELPHI, Misdirection, and more.

Raffle events will take place during the concerts with prizes provided by Apple Computers, Super Sound Music, APEX Music, Chipotle Mexican Grill, KCR Radio, Sweetwater Music, Hindsight Rehearsal Studio and many more. Raffle tickets are only $1.00 with no limit. This event sells out every year! Total prizes are worth well over $1000!
